Employers Asked To List Summer Jobs

Twenty Major Firms Receive Request From State Service

The major employers of Allegany County are being contacted by the Cumberland office of the Department of Employment Security to obtain a list of jobs that are available.

Francis A. Kenney, local agency manager, pointed out that during the next several weeks hundreds of students and graduates will be in the job market.

He said they are of two types—high school and college graduates seeking their first permanent employment and a large body of continuing students in search of summer positions.

The high school graduates have been tested and counseled by the local agency in an effort to discover the kind of work best suited to their abilities.

To do this, Kenny pointed out, the personnel of the Cumberland office has had to learn the graduates best interests and ambitions, measure their aptitudes and review their school records.

The form supplied the 20 or more major employers asks them to list their job orders.

They were requested to enumerate the high school graduates they can hire on a permanent basis, college graduates on a permanent status and graduates or continuing students for summer work only.

The local agency is located on the second floor of the Footer Building on Howard Street.

Hardy School Levy Defeated

MOOREFIELD — Voters in Hardy County cast ballots yesterday on a proposed special levy for school purposes and although a majority, 1188 to 1179, favored the plan it lost because it was not approved by at least 60 per cent of the vote cast, according to Raymond Dispanet, superintendent of schools.

Dispanet said the Hardy County Board of Education would meet next Wednesday to discuss what could be done to obtain the necessary funds for the program.

About 68 per cent of the levy would have been used for repairs to schools, textbooks and school transportation. The 37 per cent balance was to have provide for salary increases for teachers, bus drivers and janitors—not to exceed $15 per month.

There are 5,500 registered voters in Hardy County.

Trio Injured In Accidents On Highway

Three persons were hospitalized in two separate highway accidents in the area last night.

The most serious mishap, which hospitalized two children, occurred yesterday evening one mile east of Grantsville on U. S. Route 40.

Trooper Joseph Stakem of the Maryland State Police said Ronald E. Tressler, 11, and Cheryl Tressler, nine, of Grantsville were admitted to Meyersdale Community Hospital following the three-car wreck.

The boy suffered lacerations of his face, while his sister sustained head injuries.

Trooper Stakem said the accident occurred as the children's mother, Mrs. Erleena Jane Tressler, 30, Grantsville, was pulling out of a private driveway.

Police said as Mrs. Tressler's car reached the highway it was struck by another car driven by William Franklin Lewis, 21, of Clarksville, Pa., who was traveling west on the highway. Mrs. Tressler's car then struck a parked vehicle owned by Homer J. Glotfelty of Grantsville.

In the other accident last night, DeWarren H. O'Neal Jr., 18, of 212 Reynolds Street, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital following a one-car accident on the McMullen Highway in Bowling Green.

State Police said the youth was a passenger in a car driven by James G. Honeycutt, 24, of 508 Hill Street.

According to police the Honeycutt vehicle was traveling north on the highway, at an apparent unreasonable rate of speed, went out of control and ran over a 10-foot embankment, turning over several times.

Phone Firm Seeking Bids For Building

Frostburg Structure Will Be Erected On East Main Street

The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company has extended invitations to four contractors for the construction of its new Frostburg center.

The new building will be erected on East Main Street on the vacant lot at 83 East Main Street.

It will be two stories, with the top floor being the street floor and the basement being the first floor.

Follows Local Pattern

The structure, designed in the same architectural pattern as the local C&P building, will 42½ feet wide and will be 58 feet long.

The construction will be of brick, with reinforced concrete floors and framework.

The basement will contain boiler and fan rooms, plus a cable vault.

The street floor will contain an equipment room and a public office. There will be parking in the rear of the building off of Mechanic Street.

To Use Dial

The new structure will house dial equipment as the utility plans to convert the Frostburg area from the manual system.

Invited to bid on the work have been the Steiner Construction Company of Baltimore; the George F. Hazelwood Company, George Construction Company and the John I. Vandegrift Company, all of Cumberland.

Bids will be opened Tuesday, May 28, at the Baltimore office of the company.

The architect is Talyor and Fisher, of Baltimore.

Civil Service Change Backed

The Civil Service Commission will propose two charter amendments to the Mayor and Council soon concerning applicants for police and fire positions.

Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk and commission secretary, said the commission will also put into effect a change in qualifications for police applicants. This will reduce the height requirement from 5 feet 10 inches to 5 feet 9 inches.

The two charter changes proposed are as follows: (1) To reduce the required high school education from two years to one year for police and firemen and (2) recommend that the $2 medical fee for examination now paid by the applicant be paid by the city instead.

Applicants for police and fire at present pay for the examination conducted by a commission-appointed physician.

The next regular meeting of the commission is Monday, May 27.

Youth Enlists For Army Duty

William A. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Brown, RD 3, Valley Road, has enlisted in Army at the local recruiting station, according to Master Sgt. W. C. Hartley, local recruiter.

Brown signed for three years with the Ordnance and has been sent to Fort Jackson, S. C., for basic training.

Sgt. Hartley also announced that Army recruiters will assist Company C, 11th Infantry of the National Guard, in recruiting youths for the unit. Guard officers say 100 young men are being sought.

Sgt. Hartley said enlistees in the Guard must take 11 weeks active field training if they are under 18½ years of age. If they are over that age they must take six months training under a new program.

Local Girl Elected

Miss Alice E. Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Fisher, Christie Road, has been elected president of Sigma Tau Delta, English honorary group at Davis and Elkins College. She is a junior and majoring in chemistry.

Keegan Forgets To Get Permit For Marriage

The path of romance was smoothed yesterday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris when he waived the 48-hour waiting period required to obtain a marriage license.

City Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan was granted the wedding permit by Clerk of Court Joseph E. Boden after the jurist waived the waiting period.

Commissioner Keegan had overlooked the requirement for applying for the marriage license at least two days before the wedding. Today he wed the former Miss Margaret Alice Smith of Frostburg at St. Michael's Catholic Church in Frostburg.

Fire Damages Brick Firm Structure

Lack Of Water Hampers Firemen In Fighting Blaze

A building of the Pen-Mar Brick and Supply Company, which has been in operation in Cumberland for more than a half century, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

Virgil A. Parker, fire chief, said the two-alarm blaze started at 1:46 p. m., and that firemen were hampered in fighting the fire due to lack of water supply in the vicinity.

Norman E. Sell Jr., manager, credited the firemen with performing an outstanding job, despite the fact they had to haul water from Massachusetts Avenue.

Removing Machinery

Sell said his property had recently been sold to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in connection with its yard expansion program, and his men were in the process of dismantling the machinery.

The machinery, which was housed in the building, was to be stored until the business could be started at a new location, Sell added. No estimate could be made of the loss.

The firemen managed to keep the blaze from spreading to a nearby office building and fan house, Parker said. The fire started while a workman was using an acetylene burning torch to dismantle machinery in the building.

Sparks from burning bolts set a grease pit afire and the flames rapidly spread through the building.

Two Companies Called

South End firemen received an initial call and shortly afterward called firemen from Central Fire Station for assistance.

As there was no water supply in the immediate area the firemen were forced to travel some distance to a hydrant where booster tanks were filled.

Chief Parker pointed out that the building was a one-story tile with an asphalt roof. It housed machinery and was also used for storage, he added. The building measured approximately 100 feet by 40 feet.

Chief Parker said that after the grease ignited the interior of the building was enveloped by flames in a short time. A crew of firemen, who were to report for night turn at 6 p. m., were called out prior to that time and went to the scene to stand by with a small booster line until the fire burned itself out.

Members of the crew returned to their respective stations about 6:30 p. m.

The brickyard is located off Massachusetts Avenue along the B&O Railroad.

To Prepare Playlots

Eugene Mason, acting director of the Cumberland Recreation Department, said all playgrounds will be cleaned up and placed in shape next week.

To Lay Cornerstone At Ridgeley Church

The cornerstone for the new educational building of Calvary Methodist Church in Ridgeley will be laid tomorrow at 3 p. m.

Rev. Dr. Harry C. Marsh of Hagerstown, district superintendent, will be in charge of the ceremonies, and the cornerstone address will be by Rev. Dr. Philip C. Edwards, Baltimore, executive secretary of the Conference Board of Missions and Church Extension.

Rev. Harold L. May, pastor, said the senior choir will sing "Praise the Lord, Ye Heavens Adore Him," by Pritchard, and the children's choir will sing "A Prayer for Children." The choirs are directed by Miss Kathleen High and Mrs. Phares L. Hostetler.

Rev. Mr. May said the cornerstone laying ceremony is an important and historic occasion for the church and for the community, as church regulations require that final dedication ceremonies not be held until all indebtedness is paid off and the church property is mortgage-free.

Calvary, with a membership of 440 and average Sunday school attendance of 225, expects to occupy the building about the middle of July. Total cost has been budgeted at $36,252.

Rev. Mr. May said the cornerstone will contain a metal box in which will be several documents.

PTA Officer School Set In Frostburg

Four Workshops To Be Held May 23 At State Teachers College

A school of instruction for newly elected officers and chairmen of Parent-Teacher associations will be offered by the Allegany County Council of Parents and Teachers Thursday, May 23, in Frostburg State Teachers College.

Registration under the direction of Mrs. Byron Bonebreak and Mrs. Lester McGill of LaVale will be held from 6:45 p. m. to 7:15 p. m. in the old gymnasium.

Four workshops will start at 7:30 p. m. with Dr. Adam Baer, Frostburg, and Mrs. Lawrence Shafferman, Cumberland as co-chairman of the instruction committee.

Program Planning

One on program planning will be conducted by Mrs. Britten Martin and Robert Jones. The latter is a member of the college faculty.

Another will be on juvenile protection with Morris Baron, former Allegany County Juvenile Court magistrate and Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel for the Allegany County Board of Education, presiding.

The third will be handled by Dr. Baer on the conducting of a PTA meeting.

A workshop on membership will be conducted by Mrs. Kermit Glotfelty of Accident with a class on life membership and scholarships handled by Dr. Lillian C. Compton, retired president of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Open To Members

Dr. Baer will preside and Mrs. Calvin Keiter of Cumberland will give the invocation. R. Bowen Hardesty, college president, will give the welcome.

Mrs. Benjamin Lewis, Frostburg, is general chairman of the school of instruction.

Mrs. Baer and Robert Jones are in charge of arrangements; Mrs. Lawrence Kyle, Flintstone, publicity; Mrs. Keiter, Mrs. John Lower, Mrs. George Buckalew and Mrs. James Snelson, hospitality.

In addition to newly elected officers and chairman of committees, the course is open to all PTA members.

Ponytail Cut Brings 60 Days

The 18-year-old local youth who snipped off a young girl's ponytail last week will have a little time on his hands to brush up on the barbering trade.

The youth, Thomas E. Edmonson, RD 4, Oldtown Road, was sentenced to 60 days in the Allegany County Jail this morning in Trial Magistrate Court.

In sentencing the youth, Magistrate Donald W. Mason said the boy has a bad outlook on things and has a previous record in Juvenile Court.

Magistrate Mason stated that he hoped this would serve as a warning to the teenagers who wear long hair cuts and hang around on street corners.

Edmonson sports a "drape" type haircut.

Hyndman Pastor Asks Retirement

Rev. Clewell E. Miller of Hyndman, is one of four pastors asking to be placed on retired status during the Western Pennsylvania Evangelical United Brethren Conference at Johnstown.

Rev. Mr. Miller has been pastor of Hyndman church since 1942. He was ordained in 1919 and has served pastorates in Cumberland Bethel, Meyersdale, Cumberland Calvary, Connellsville, Freedom, Paradise, Ellerslie and Cherry Tree churches.
